PUBLIC LEADER

MAYSVILLE, KY.

A new definition of a friend has been coined by a West Union school boy. "A friend," replied the boy, upon being questioned by the teacher, "is a person who knows all about you and likes you just the same."

Captain A. R. Martin, of the towboat D. L. Lynn, who lives at Dans, W. Va., was married at Newport the past week to Miss Lula Wilson of Ripley. Captain Martin has been in the river service at Newport for the past fifteen years.

SOME COOKLETS.

No matter what else Cook lacked of reaching the Pole, it surely wasn't "cheek."

It may be that Dr. Cook's after a new subject for lecture, having got through with the Pole.

Maybe the lecture bureau could find the whereabouts of Dr. Cook.

When Cook gets back maybe he won't make any charge for telling where he's been.

If Cook had only brought a pole cat home with him, it might have caused all this wrangle to blow over.

It's not unlikely that Dr. Cook's long acquaintance with sea gulls put it in his mind to "gull" the people.

In Cook's Polar lectures, one great adjunct in his favor assuredly was the ignorance of his hearers.

It's doubtful whether Cook could have told any more than he did about the Pole had he really been there.

A Lenoir Lady, After Two Weeks Grinding Labor, Feels Better Than Ever.

Lenoir, N. C.—"I am not tired at all, and am stouter than I have ever been," writes Mrs. Kate Waters, of Lenoir, N. C., "although I have just finished a two weeks' wash. I lay my strength to Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken a lot of it and I can never praise it enough for what it has done for me. I can never thank you enough for the advice you gave me, to take Cardui, for since taking it I look so well and am stout as a mule."

You are urged to take Cardui, that gentle, vegetable tonic, for weak women. Its use will strengthen and build up your system, relieve or prevent headache, backache and the ailments of weak women.

It will surely help you, as it has helped thousands of others, in the past 50 years.

ROOSEVELT'S HUNTING TROPHIES

Make Nimrod's Record Resemble Empty Game Bag—Vast Display in Smithsonian Institution

Theodore Roosevelt, like Nimrod, the son of Cush, "began to be a mighty one in the earth" long before he went to Africa, and since he started in pursuit of lions, hippopotami, giraffe and other beasts of the field and the jungle, he has shown himself to be a mighty hunter before the Lord and has sent home more than 300 casks and bales of trophies and a menagerie of living things to prove it.

Mr. Roosevelt has already sent to the Smithsonian more than 6,000 objects of interest, including the skins and hides of the animals he has killed, hundreds of rare birds, reptiles, fishes, botanical specimens, native implements, utensils and other ethnological material of great scientific value and intense human interest. No expedition, either private or public, that was sent out for exploration ever produced such results. No expedition of the kind was ever conducted on such a large scale or enjoyed the extraordinary advantages which Colonel Roosevelt has commanded. The officials of the British, Dutch and Portuguese Governments, the local authorities and foreign population of Central Africa; the native chiefs and tribesmen, the missionaries and everybody who has been capable of rendering any service to the modern Nimrod has done his best to contribute to its success and never before have the jungles and wilderness of Africa been beaten for all forms of animate and inanimate objects of interest.

The expedition is about half over and the trophies that have been received thus far included whatever was collected up to the first of October. Since that day the party has been busily engaged adding to the number and undoubtedly the shipments that are already on the way and those which may be expected in the future will more than double in number and in value those which have already been received.

The skins and hides were packed and shipped in casks of brine which have not been opened but will be turned over to the tanners. The skeleton of every beast has been sent along in another package, and already a carload of bones have been boiled and scraped and put in order for articulation by the taxidermists. They will be exhibited separately. The skins and hides will be stuffed and mounted on manikins in lifelike attitudes.

The invoices already received show thirteen lions and lionesses shot by the ex-President himself, four giraffes of different species, two black rhinoceros, which are very rare, and a dozen others of more common varieties: several hippopotami and several elephants, seven zebras, and hyenas, leopards, cheetahs, harte-beets, waterbucks, gazelles, impalas, water hogs, dik-diks and other wild beasts galore, some of which were never before brought into this country; and all these are to be mounted for permanent exhibition in the new Museum. There are also numerous cases of birds including several varieties hitherto unknown, and several hundred small animals, such as rats, lizards and other examples of crawling and creeping things which are not attractive to look at but have great scientific value.

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

Maysville People Are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of Maysville more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

Mrs. Della Means, 328 East Front street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"About seven years ago kidney trouble made its appearance in my case, the first symptom being a sharp pain through my kidneys, accompanied by a bearing-down feeling across my hips and loins. Dull, miserable headaches soon began to bother me, and I often became so dizzy that if I did not catch hold of something I would have fallen. I continued to grow worse, until I was often confined to my bed for a week at a time. No remedy I used helped me, and I was in a bad way. Dropsical swellings appeared, and there was an almost complete retention of the kidney secretions. My body also bloated, and it would be impossible to describe the misery I endured. I had about despaired of ever being cured, when I read of a person who had been freed of a similar trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. Deciding to try them, I procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and I obtained so much relief from the first box that I continued taking the remedy until entirely cured. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
